FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

What is a Cooperative Preschool?

Cooperative preschools provide members with their first formal opportunity to become involved in their children's education. With the guidance and support of a skilled educator, parents and caregivers can learn effective ways of relating to their children. Research has clearly demonstrated that children whose parents are involved in their education are more successful in all areas of development throughout their school careers than children of parents who were not involved. Children learn best by freely interacting with people and things in their environment. The richer the environment, the more opportunities there are for learning.

Shorenorth Cooperative Preschool offers parents and children a unique and exciting educational experience. Parents benefit from an excellent parent education curriculum and from being involved with other caring parents. At the same time, children enjoy a wide variety of experiences and interaction with others. Skills developed at Shorenorth last a lifetime.

Each class includes parent education, which is a key component of co-op preschools and helps us learn and grow as parents. Our Co-op is affiliated with Shoreline Community College and enrolled parents actually receive college credits for the parent education they receive.

What are the responsibilities of membership at Shorenorth Co-op Preschool?

A co-op preschool is a community of families, where we contribute our own special talents and help each other for the benefit of all our children. A community that believes the more you put into it, the more you and especially your children get out of it. In addition to helping out in the classroom, members assume responsibility for the operation of the preschool. In a sense, when parents or caregivers become members, they become part "owners" of this cooperative. Being a part of a co-op is a rewarding and engaging experience. One of the reasons a co-op is so affordable is that we rely on all of our members to help in the running our school.

Member Responsibilities include:

- Participating in parent education during class time
- Participating in successful fundraising (two times per year)*
- Attending a school meeting and parent education speaker one night a month*
- Having a co-op job, serving on a committee, or the board of directors*
- Cleaning the classroom once a year or paying an opt-out fee. Participating in all-school clean-up three times per year*
- Bringing a nutritious snack to share or lunch for your child as required by the class*

These responsibilities are not required of those enrolled only in The Baby 'n Me Class.*

Can I bring my child when I observe a class?

Yes, participating in a class is a helpful way to experience the classroom, meet other parents and get a feel for being a part of a co-op.

Does my child need to be potty trained?

No, Shorenorth does not require that children be potty trained for any class. If you are enrolled in one of our multi-day classes where your child is dropped off, and your child is not potty trained, arrangements can be made that both you and your child are comfortable with.
